

MOB

SET UPON NON-UNION MEN AT
BLISS COLLIERY.

BITUMINOUS MINERS JOIN IN THE BIG STRIKE

BUT OHIO IS NOT TO BE IN IT.

Wilkesbarre Today Became Headquarters for the Strike—Morgan is Hanged in Effigy.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 7.—At Bliss colliery this morning Frederick and Sweeney, non-union engineer and watchman at the mine were set upon by a mob of 100 men, women and children and severely beaten. Warrants are out for the arrest of 17 men who took part in the riot.

Bridgeport, Ohio, June 7.—President Haskins of the Ohio miners is here today. He says the miners in this state will not strike in sympathy with the anthracite men.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 7.—This city today became headquarters for the strike of nearly 170,000 men, 18,000 miners of the bituminous region in West Virginia having gone on a strike this morning in addition to the 15,000 mine workers now out in the anthracite fields. President Macmillan of the United Mine Workers' organization, will manage both campaigns from this city. By the latter part of next week Mitchell expects that 30,000 bituminous workers will be out in West Virginia and in that event the miners' union president will be directly responsible for the success or failure of the cause of 180,000 men.

An effigy of J. Pierpont Morgan is swinging from a telegraph pole on Parish street today. The police say they will not remove the effigy until they have special orders to do so.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 7.—O'Brien, Hanna, Thermig and Nann the police men arrested in connection with the shooting of Charlie McCann were arraigned again today before Mayor Price. They were held without bail pending the result of the boy's injuries. McCann is in a serious condition today.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 7.—Every colliery in this and the Fairmont region is running today with slight losses of miners. The strike in this section is a complete failure from the standpoint of the organizers.

Huntington, W. Va., June 7.—Advices from various points along the Norfolk & Western railroad this morning are to the effect that almost every coal operation along the line is tied up, the miners generally obeying the strike order. Something like ten thousand men are out in that field. At Simmons, in the Flat Top field, 95 per cent of the men quit work. The three large collieries at Goodwill are completely at a standstill.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 7.—Women are helping the miners' strike here. A half dozen young women stopped non-union fireman named Simmons and asked him to go home. He refused, when the women surrounded him and dragged him home. Fletcher Walker, a coal and iron policeman, was asked by 2 women to give up his work. He refused and fled, but the women pursued, and disarmed him, threw away his badge and escorted him home.

ELECTRIC CAR

RUNS FROM DAYTON TO NEWARK SATURDAY.

Trip Made Successfully—Car Left Hebron for Newark at 2:10 p. m. Mileage Tickets.

Hebron, O., June 7.—The electric car from Dayton to Newark, which left the Gem City at 8 a. m., reached Hebron this afternoon and left at 2:10 p. m. for Newark.

The car arrived here at 3:05 p. m., having left Dayton at 8 a. m. The party stopped at many points enroute to Newark.

Columbus, June 7.—The first through trip of a passenger car from Dayton to Newark over the interurban roads in the Appleyard system will be made today by a private chair car carrying Mr. Appleyard and a party of Eastern capitalists and leaving Dayton at 8 a. m. The schedule calls for the car to arrive at London at 11 o'clock; Columbus at 12:30 and Newark at 2:30, but it is doubtful if the distance from Columbus to Newark will be made on schedule time, owing to the lack of proper facilities. This difficulty, however will soon be removed by the completion of the power plant at Hebron.

The system of mileage books, interchangeable on all interurban roads, went into effect Friday. The first books of the kind issued were those of the Dayton, Springfield and Urbana line good for 1000 miles, with no time limit and upon the following roads: Springfield, Columbus Grove City and Southwestern; Columbus Buckeye Lake and Newark; Dayton, Lebanon and Springfield, and Columbus, Delaware and Marion lines, when all of these are finished. The book will cost $12.50 and not less than five miles will be taken for one trip.

The Columbus, London and Springfield is hauling for the Central Market line some of the 70 pound rails which for some time have been stored at London. They will replace the lighter rails which have been in use on West Broad street between Hague avenue and the Big Four depot. C. A. Alderman, chief engineer for the Appleyard system, is now in Columbus looking over the Central Market line.

FRIEND

OF LABOR IS MAYOR HARRISON, OF CHICAGO.

WHOSE POLICY SETTLED TROUBLE IN THAT CITY

NOW APPEALS TO ROOSEVELT

In Concert With Labor Leaders, Asking to Aid in Settling Anthracite Coal Strike.

Chicago, June 7.—Inspired by the successful outcome of the policy of conciliation and arbitration in putting of an end to the strife between employers and employed in the teamsters' strike, Carter H. Harrison, mayor of Chicago; Albert Young, president of the national teamsters' union; E. L. Turley, secretary of the national teamsters' union; S. V. Peterson, secretary special order clothing makers of America; James H. Payne, president of the united order of boxmakers and sawyers of America; Frederick W. Job, chairman state board of arbitration who were prominent in effecting the settlement of the Chicago strike, have appealed to the President to exert the same influence to put a stop to the trouble in the anthracite fields.

The message to President Roosevelt reads: "The beneficial results of arbitration as a means of settling labor difficulties have been conclusively demonstrated within the past few days here in Chicago, where two great bodies of men have arranged their differences in a peaceful manner. We therefore urge you to use all your power and influence to bring about arbitration of the coal strike in Pennsylvania."

BOERS

ACCEPT THE RESULT OF WAR WITH CALMNESS

BURGER GUARDS SAY THEY WILL OBSERVE TERMS.

NO HITCH IN THE PROCEEDINGS.

Eleven Hundred Boers Laid Down Their Arms on Friday—Cronje and Others Talk.

London, June 7.—Today General Kitchener reports that the surrender of the Boers continues. At Middleburg 440 burghers have come in with a pom-pom and have also indicated the hiding places of a howitzer and a maxim. At Stanterton, 26 men have surrendered, and at Cradok, 255, of whom 219 were rebels. Many more are expected. Kitchener adds that all are rejoice at the news of peace.

Pretoria, June 7.—Commandant Hans Botha and 800 Boers surrendered at Heidelberg today. After receiving a good dinner they dispersed to their homes. It is expected that a number of the commandoes will disperse to their home without surrendering, as some of the Confederates in the United States did after Appomattox.

London, June 7.—In a dispatch from Pretoria the correspondent there of the Daily Telegraph gives conversations with some of the Boer leaders. General Botha, in speaking with the correspondent, declared the burghers would observe loyally the terms of the settlement. It depended, however, said General Botha, upon the administration of affairs for the next few months whether or not the country would return to prosperity and lasting peaceful conditions. Personally General Botha said he was confident that everything would be done by the authorities to avoid friction and assist the people.

Judge Hertzog similarly expressed his desire for the effacement of all bitterness between Briton and Boer, of his readiness to help in the restoration of the prosperity in the countries under British rule.

General Dewet according to the correspondent, appears to be little affected either physically or mentally by the cares of warfare. He said he was going to his farm to resume his work there. Throughout the war General Dewet has never been hit once, nor has his horse been touched by a bullet, but his Argutant has been twice wounded and has had six horses killed under him.

Lord Kitchener in a dispatch from Pretoria dated yesterday, announced that the British commissioners in the various districts report that 1,154 Boers laid down their arms yesterday. Afterward the commissioners addressed the Boers, who gave three hearty cheers for King Edward. The best possible relations exist between the Boers and the British and there has been no hitch in the proceedings anywhere.

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 7.—The Boer officers who have been living in the prison camps on the islands here have been allowed their liberty on parole. Several of them came ashore, and were interviewed. Generals Cronje, Wessels, Botha and others were extremely reticent, but they said they were glad the war was over and would be delighted to get back to their homes. It is understood that the rank and file of the Boers will be allowed to go ashore in batches of 10. The officers have been invited to an "at home" at Government House today. The General Cronje who is here is a nephew of the celebrated General of the same name.

LAUGHED AT HANNA.

Washington, June 7.—In the Senate this afternoon Mr. Mitchell of Oregon made a powerful speech for the Nicaragua canal route. He laughed at Hanna's idea that the canal on the Nicaragua route would be disturbed by volcanoes.

The public is invited. There is no charge for admission but a collection is taken up during the service. At Plymouth church Friday night Master Harris selected several passages of Scripture and talked in a gently from the texts. This morning he was met down town by one of the prominent ministers of the city who had read in last night's Advocate an extended account of the lad's remarkable power and intellect. The minister questioned the lad closely and was amazed at the depth of his learning.

HANNA

THE CANDIDATE OF THE TRUSTS FOR PRESIDENT,

AND GREAT SHAM ADJUSTER OF LABOR TROUBLES

J. P. MORGAN BACKING HANNA.

Democratic State Committee Meeting on Next Tuesday—Political News from the State Capital.

Columbus, O., June 7.—While Ohio Republicans just now profess for effect to be interested, more or less, in Buckeye politics, the real interest of all their leaders centers around Washington and has its inspiration in the Hanna boom for president. That the conspiracy against Roosevelt's nomination is already well under way, with headquarters in Cleveland and ramifications in all parts of the country, is now conceded by all Republicans in touch with the situation, and boasted by many of Senator Hanna's closest adherents in this vicinity. It is noticeable that the Hanna organs have taken up the "spontaneous cry" for the boss's presidential candidacy, just as they did for his senatorial candidacy after the close of the campaign of 1896. The following is a sample paragraph from recent Washington correspondence of the leading Hanna organ of this state, showing unmistakably which way the wind blows.

"The recent emphatic and unmistakable sincere declaration of Mr. Hanna that he was not a candidate for the presidency caused something of a lull in the Hanna talk, but since the Ohio Republican convention the other day in Cleveland, it has broken out afresh. The close political friends of President Roosevelt, who hope to see the present chief executive named as the party standard-bearer two years hence, are, if not alarmed, at least uneasy. It is only confidence in the sincerity of Senator Hanna's declaration that he is not seeking the presidential nomination that prevents a panic in the Roosevelt ranks. They know that if Senator Hanna would but say the word, what is now very apparently a tide toward Hanna would grow into a tidal wave that would sweep everything before it."

It may be stated positively that this kind of stuff, which is already pretty well circulated in Republican channels, and with which the county will soon be flooded, is the product of a well organized Hanna literary bureau. The fraudulent senator's modest dissimulation is only intended to add fuel to the fire of his boom; and the proposition to re-elect him to the senate is only preliminary to one that will propose to send him to the White House. This is what the Foraker people and other anti-Hanna Republicans are "up against," and nobody knows it better than they. There is good reason for saying that the scheme will be definitely disclosed within the next few months.

The most sensational aspect of this conspiracy appears in private advices from the east, which declare that J. P. Morgan is back of it and that the National Civic Federation is being used as the chief instrument to promote it. According to these reports, which come from excellent authority, Morgan is posing Hanna as the great labor arbitrator. The trusts of the country are given to understand that Hanna is the "man of destiny" and so whenever any labor trouble arises affecting their interests, Hanna is called in to adjust it as "the friend of the workman." The startling accusation is even made that the trusts are not averse to inspiring sham labor troubles for the very object of having Hanna "adjust" them. This plan of campaign is decidedly novel but entirely characteristic of the Cleveland boss and worthy the cleverness of J. P. Morgan, the master hand in all the operations involved in it. Between the Hanna literary bureau and the Civic Federation "labor bureau," it is easy to see that a Hanna presidential campaign can be inaugurated that only the integrity of the people, manifested in the Demo-

THEIR TRADE DOOMED

West Indies' Commerce Ruined by the Eruption.

EXODUS FROM ISLANDS CERTAIN.

So Claims Baron de Fontenillat, Who Escaped From Martinique. Condition of the Sugar Industry. Guiana Likely to Prosper by the Calamity—Its Resources.

In the rush of events following the eruption of Mont Pelee the effect the disaster will have on commerce has not been clearly explained, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. Of this Baron de Fontenillat, the French nobleman who so miraculously escaped from the Fort de France horror, told at the Hotel Manhattan, in New York, the other day:

"This eruption," said the baron, "will be the last straw that breaks the back of a large part of the West Indian trade. For many years now the sugar industry not only in Martinique, but in dangerous Guadeloupe, in Antigua, St. Croix, St. Lucia, St. Thomas, the Barbados—in fact, a great part of the Danish, British and French West Indies—has been very languid. The beet sugar success in France and the United States has far outrun it. It seemed to many that it was dying a natural death. Of course the moral effect of this disaster will be but to keep people away from these islands (Guadeloupe, for instance, has a volcano always smoking). Planters will not go there. St. Thomas, as you know, has planted no crops this year. Not daring to compete with France and the United States, the planters have held back their sugar, waiting for the purchase to take effect, when all their goods will be admitted free. An exodus from these islands has already started, and I doubt very much if the blow to commerce is not a deathblow. The negroes, too, are ludicrously superstitious and timid, and they will flee. At any rate, the soil of these islands, unlike that of fortunate Cuba and Porto Rico, will not produce everything. Sugar was almost dead. Wood might be produced, but that will take six years; and not very many will have the heart to start it. So there you are.

"French Guiana, which is very near the islands, will be the haven of many refugees. For many years now many of the negroes of Martinique have gone there for four months out of the year, have got enough by what you may call scarecrow prospecting to keep them for the rest of the year and have then returned to the island metropolis to eat and drink it up. So this will be the point they will make for. French Guiana has an immense penal settlement. The prison is right on the water, and it is rather ghastly to see the schools of sharks hovering around for the chance of a prisoner who may be thrown there. At the sound of the death bell they come swimming in just as dogs do when they are called by whistle. With the increase in population enterprise and industry may spring up in Guiana. I don't know. I hope so, for you see I am interested. The government knows its wealth, but there is no capital. It is a curious place, a great tangle land much of it. On the shore is a strip of land on which you can raise a luxuriant first crop, but after that never a one. The soil is only a few inches deep and is really absorbed. Back of the plain are the impenetrable mountains, with rivers cutting in them. Up these rivers the negroes paddle for days and then prospect, for back of the hills is a very rich land in mineral. There is gold in the sand and gold underground. Richer than the Transvaal—it really is—for the gold ore brings $120 a ton, whereas in South Africa $25 or $30 is a fair price.

"Altogether I think you will see a great change in the lower part of the West Indies, and commercially they will drop out of the world."

Men's Shirt Waists as an Issue. President Angell, Professor Adams and Professor Lombard of the University of Michigan have set their official feet down upon gentlemen's shirt waists unless hidden by coats, says a dispatch from Ann Arbor, Mich., to the Chicago Record-Herald. However, in the law department Professors McAlvay, Knowlton and Lane have given it out that the men can go coatless with as much liberty as the co-eds, and the "laws" are taking advantage of the permission.

"Who's Payin' For It All?" Most every day we hear about some rich chap with a daughter Or mebbe an ambitious wife to take across the water: He buys a yacht that costs a lot and hires crews and cooks And loads his women folks with gems supposed to help their looks, And mebbe he may think the price the spurge'll cost is small, But still I can't help wonderin' who's payin' for it all.

The man who heads the steamship trust or some big corporation Has planned to blow a million in to see He'll be away all summer long and travel like a king, While I'll be workin' on the crops I planted in the spring; He'll rent a castle from some lord that's crowded to the wall, And I can't keep from wonderin' who's payin' for it all.

A Foggy Story. In London an American, boasting of the superiority of his country, was interrupted by an Englishman, who said: "There's one thing in which this country surpasses America. You never saw on the other side of the Atlantic any fog that could match the one which hangs over London tonight."

"Fog! Fog!" came the unhesitating reply of the irate American. "Why, this is nothing compared with some of the fogs we have around New York harbor. Sometimes the fog is so thick around there that it's a common thing for the captains of the ferryboats to put on extra crews simply to pump the fog out of the cabins. Why, there's a corporation organizing in New Jersey right now to can American fog and supply the British people with 'the real thing.'"—Argonaut.

Why doesn't Senator Hanna come forward with his Civic Federation Arbitration committee and do business by settling the great strike in the anthracite coal regions. After all the professions that Hanna and certain Republican leaders have been making it is high time for some practical performance. If the so-called Civic Federation is to do the great things promised in the way of arbitrating all labor troubles, there is immediate demand for a test of its efficacy. The great American public is watching the situation just now with intense interest.

An important incident of the Oregon election on Monday was the ratification of a constitutional amendment adopting the principle of the initiative and referendum. This amendment recites that, while the legislative power is vested in a Legislative Assembly, consisting of a Senate and House of Representatives, yet "the people reserve to themselves power to propose laws and amendments to the constitution and to enact or reject the same at the polls, independent of the Legislative Assembly, and also reserve power at their own option to approve or reject at the polls any act of the Legislative Assembly"; and it is consequently provided that, whenever 8 per cent of the legal voters petition for specific legislation, the same shall be submitted to popular vote, and shall become law if approved by a majority voting thereon; that any enactment of the Legislature Assembly may be submitted to popular vote by such Assembly, acting voluntarily, and must be when requested by 5 per cent of the voters; and that the veto power of the governor shall not extend to enactments voted on with approval by the people. This amendment had to be approved by two Legislatures before submission, but one vote was cast against it the second time, while both of the great parties were committed to it during the recent campaign.

Admitting that the demand of the Indiana Democratic convention for "free debate in Congress" is the expression of a partisan body, is it not ominously significant that it there should be ample warrant for such an expression? Is there not material for serious thought in the circumstance that in a government ostensibly representative legislation is notoriously dictated by half a dozen men and that the rank and file of the majority—to say nothing of the minority—have no more voice in it than they have in the making of laws for Great Britain? Is this the culmination of representative government?

Let us give Lord Kitchener credit for the ability to say a graceful and generous word. His declaration to the Boer delegates that, if he were not a British soldier he would be proud to be a Boer soldier was the utterance of a chivalrous fighter who appreciates a worthy foe. If the same spirit be displayed by Kitchener's civilian successors in the government of South Africa there will be no trouble with the Afrikaners.

If the President of the United States were to devote to some laudable public purpose the same time and energy that he employs in devising plans to humiliate the lieutenant general of the army, he could do down in history as one of the most efficient executives this country ever had.

cratic party, can prevent from being successful.

The Democratic state central committee will meet in this city next Tuesday afternoon to fix the time and place of holding the next state convention and provide for its temporary organization. There will be a large attendance of prominent Democrats not connected with the committee from all parts of the State, and the session will be one of the most interesting ever held by the central organization. Considerable difference of opinion as to the date of the convention has recently manifested itself. A strong effort is on foot to postpone it until the last week in August or first week in September. The secretary of the central committee, Harry Payer, who is credited with representing Mayor Johnson of Cleveland, has been very active in behalf of the late date and claims that he has a majority of the committee with him. There is no doubt, however, that the proposition will meet with determined opposition by those who favor a convention to be held as early as it can now be called. The latter argue that the Republicans are already in the field and organizing; that there is not time after the first of September in which to organize satisfactorily for a November campaign; and that, on general principles and as an inspiration to the party, the Democrats should not be so far behind their opponents in coming before the people with their candidates and platform. There will be a spirited contest between these opposing forces before the committee. It is impossible to predict the convention's location of its temporary officers with accuracy. These are questions that will be subordinate to the time of holding it. Sandusky has been the most active candidate, and if no other questions were injected into the consideration of the subject would probably carry off the prize. Under the circumstances, however, no intelligent prediction of what will happen in this regard can be made at this time.

The executive committee of the Ohio Democratic state central committee will meet in this city next Tuesday, July 1. The Columbus Elks' carnival will be in progress the same day and week, and half rates will prevail on all railroads. The speaking morning and afternoon will be under roof before comfortably seated auditors, and there will be refreshments, games and amusement all day. Among the eminent Ohio Democrats who have already accepted the invitation to be present and deliver addresses are Colonel James Kibourne of Columbus, Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, Hon. John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, ex-Mayor James A. Rice of Canton, Hon. Horace H. Chapman of Jackson, Hon. O. W. H. Wright of Logan, chairman of the central committee W. J. Frey of Findlay, Senator J. C. Royer of Tiffin and Representative C. L. Brumhaugh of Greenville. This represents about one-half of the number of prominent Democrats invited and there is every reason to believe that substantially all of them will accept. The affair will be a big social function of the State Democracy. The tickets sell for one dollar, but each ticket will represent a much greater expense than that sum, secured by a guarantee fund, on account of the magnitude of the enterprise.

For Those Who Make the Nearest Guesses.

Carefully Prepared Census Now Being Taken and Advocate Readers Have An Opportunity

To Secure a Little Money Without Effort and Without Expense—The Only Condition is Each Guess Must be Accompanied by Paid in Advance Subscription to the Daily Advocate for Five Weeks.

The sum of Two Hundred Dollars in Gold has been deposited in the bank to the Advocate's credit for free distribution among the readers of the Daily Advocate upon conditions which will permit every subscriber to participate.

This money will be given in thirty-five prizes to those who will do a little figuring and place the result of their calculations on a coupon clipped from the Advocate and deposit it at this office with a paid in advance subscription to the Daily Advocate for five weeks. In other words any subscriber may take part in the contest and free distribution of prizes by paying five weeks in advance for the paper, (all arrearages must first be settled) or any new subscriber may send his estimate to this office by paying 50 cents, for which sum the Daily Advocate will be sent to any address in the city of the United States for a period of five weeks.

ONE MAY GUESS AS OFTEN AS HE CHOOSES providing each guess or estimate is accompanied by 50 cents for five weeks' subscription to the paper.

Now as to the nature of the contest: The Advocate has several reputable persons engaged in taking the census of Newark. The work is being done with greater accuracy and more care than was the official census of 1900. Every building in the city (none beyond the corporation lines) is being visited and a careful record is being made of the names and number of the dwellers in each building. The work is being done by experienced census takers and under the system employed nobody can escape and none can be duplicated. The result will show the exact population of Newark on June 1, 1902.

In 1890 Newark had a population of 14,289, and the official census of 1900 showed that there were 18,157 people living in Newark two years ago. WHAT IS THE POPULATION OF THIS THRIVING LITTLE CITY TODAY? Here is a pointer that will help you to arrive at an intelligent conclusion. The school enumerators have just reported that there are 5,070 school youth between the ages of 6 and 21 year living in Newark.

The census taking is being done without collusion among the enumerators, who each report to a gentleman in another city who makes a specialty of just such work as this. No person in the Advocate office will see any report or will know any more about the result than any reader of the paper until the time for distribution of the fund, but to guard against what might appear to be partiality, a rule has been established that no employee of the Advocate Company can participate in the contest directly or indirectly.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES.

To the second.....	$25
To the third.....	$20

This is what is wanted:
Send your estimate of what the population of Newark was on June 1, 1902 (men, women and children included) with 50 cents to the Advocate Printing Company, Newark, Ohio, not later than 12 o'clock noon, August 16, 1902. The estimate must be made on a coupon clipped from the Advocate, and be mailed or left at the Advocate counting room with remittance for which the paper will be sent to any address designated. Before any old subscriber can participate in the contest all indebtedness for past subscription must be paid.

This contest is started primarily to stimulate the interest of our people in the growth of our popular little city, more intimately familiarize them with its progress and prosperity, and at the same time provide an interesting and intellectual contest in which every one has an equal opportunity to secure one of 35 cash prizes, and by which the paper may be introduced into new homes.

The Advocate is the best and most popular paper in Newark and once a subscriber in nine of ten cases, always a subscriber. The Advocate gives special attention to the home news, to Licking county news, and Ohio news, with special correspondence from many points and the telegraph service of the Scripps McRae Press Association. Read the Advocate regularly and keep posted.

SERVICES

HELD FRIDAY IN MEMORY OF
MRS. GRACE FLEEK.

At Missionary Society Meeting at the Home of Mr. A. G. Wyeth on Granville Street.

The Ladies Home and Foreign Missionary society held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Howie, at the home of Mr. A. G. Wyeth on Granville street. The June meeting is called Rose Day. Accordingly, the decorations were roses, and each one was given a rose to which was pinned a slip of paper with a quotation written on it to be read in response to roll call. The following program was given: Hymn; Scripture reading; Prayer; Roll-call and Minutes of the last meeting. Letter from Mrs. W. C. Miller; Business; Echoes from the Presbyterian, Miss Mary Miller; Hymn; The Story of a White Rose, Mrs. Overturf; Reading, The Wild White Rose, Miss Ella May Wallace; Prayer; The twenty-third Psalm in concert. Contained in the minutes was this tribute to Mrs. Fleek:

"But since our last meeting it is with deep regret that this society has lost one of its most worthy members, Mrs. Grace Fleek, who so apparently full of life and vigor, her arduous activity in this society, her church and her social life, was called to leave the earthly scenes with all their clustering interests and strong ties to life, to a better home. Our sympathies go out to her bereaved children, to her many friends, and the church of her Christian activity. The marked lesson again comes to us from her very sudden departure, 'Be ye also ready.'"

This meeting closed with the reading of the following eulogy on Mrs. Fleek:

She sat in Life's Banquet Hall at noon
When secretly the word went forth, that unto her
"The Master cometh onward quickly;
Soon across the threshold He will call for thee."

Then she rose up to meet Him at the door,
But turning courteous, made a farewell brief,
To those that sat around.

Martha Grace Lange was born February 28, 1838, at Ashland, O., and for eighteen years that city was her home. She had the misfortune to lose her father when only 8 years old, and her mother passed away in 1855.

She graduated from the Granville Seminary in June of 1858, and then came to Newark, making her home with her only sister, Mrs. Spencer Wright. For forty-six years she has been identified with the growth and prosperity of our fair city and has always manifested great interest in everything that made for its better welfare.

On a bright October morning of 1860, she was married to John Sherwood Fleek. After the ceremony they went to the home of Mr. Frank Woodbridge where her intimate friend, Miss Mary Woodbridge and the Hon. John Follett were united by marriage, and the newly united couples went for their bridal trip together.

Her married life was a happy one, and she was the proud mother of three sons and two daughters. The death angel entered the home circle three times, taking two of her boys and her husband. While the repeated blows almost crushed her, with Christian fortitude she was enabled to rise above her grief and seeing in each stroke a loving Father's hand, she learned the lesson

"That God knoweth what is best,
And a silent resignation
Makes the spirit calm and blest."
Early in life she united with the Lord's people, and was ever loyal to church home, the Second Presbyterian. She was very benevolent and most generous with the abundant means with which God blessed her.

"Mrs. Fleek is dead!" were the words that passed from lip to lip that Monday night, May 12th. Words so startling that we could not at first realize their true import. Mrs. Fleek—who that afternoon moved among her friends the very soul of life—and who but the day before we had seen in her accustomed place in the house of God, whose smiling face and cheery words seemed to speak of anything but death. But it was all too true. Mrs. Fleek was dead. It was as she would have had it; no lingering, no painful waiting, no sorrowing of

PAIN'S Celery Compound

The Medicine that Saves Life and Restores Lost Health.

A merciful Providence still keeps the spark of life in thousands of wasted and feeble bodies. The fitful, flickering spark will burn with decreased power as the hot days of summer approach. There is still hope for even those who are now catching glimpses of the dark valley. The use of Paine's Celery Compound during the month of June will at once arrest the progress of wasting diseases. It will strengthen the weak and inflamed nerves, rid the body of morbid waste material, make the blood pure and give healthy action to the stomach, liver and kidneys. Nervousness, sleeplessness, rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles quickly vanish when Dr. Phelps' marvelous prescription is used. Mrs. Alice Terry Wood, 515 Highland street, Helena, Mont., says:

"I can say for all that I believe Paine's Celery Compound a great medicine. I should have been in my grave if it hadn't been for the wonderful curing virtues of the Compound, and I can say to all who are tired and run down, to try it, and they will find relief at once. My trouble was general weakness, lack of appetite, and heart trouble. I have taken four bottles of Paine's Celery Compound and feel like a new person. Now I have a good appetite, do all my work and feel well."

friends; but suddenly in the midst of her useful busy life—the call came. How strange it all seems. We cannot understand; but we know that "He doeth all things well." We thought as we stood in the hush of that quiet room, which kind hearts and willing hands had made lovely with flowers, and looked on the still face of our friend, of how "He giveth His beloved sleep." And when our pastor spoke the words of comfort we knew it was not all sadness. "There was kindly light amid the encircling gloom."

Then when we went with our sister to the "silent city of the dead," all was so calm and peaceful; the sky so bright and blue, the happy birds singing in the waving trees, all seemed to speak to us of Him who is the resurrection and the life. So she went to her rest, and we left her to sleep awhile until the day break and the shadows flee away.

Sometime the hard goal be attained,
The puzzles shall be clear some time,

STAGE LIFE TEN YEARS.

New Crop of Minor Actors Harvested Every Decade.

A new crop of stage people is harvested in the United States every ten years. Each decade marks the beginning of a new epoch in theatrical history.

This fact does not apply so aptly to stars and stage people who dominate in the profession, for the life of these, so far as the public is concerned, is usually somewhat longer. But with the rank and file—those who never rise higher than the level of minor roles—ten years is about the limit of endurance. After having served before the public for that length of time without doing anything sufficiently meritorious or novel to attract unusual attention the actor or actress, as a rule, passes away in so far as the profession is concerned, and a new crop is harvested among the many anxious recruits on the waiting list to fill the depleted ranks.

Men who deal in the talents of stage people to the extent of reaping financial return from their labors are better qualified to "size up" the situation than others, and their experience teaches that few ordinary people of the theatrical profession remain longer than ten years in the business. They either achieve distinction—although this is the exception rather than the rule—or else drop into other lines after having been convinced by experience that the stage, so far as they are directly concerned, offers practically no opportunity for advancement. For this reason the rank and file of the profession is constantly changing, and the popular idea "once an actor always an actor" is easily disproved.—Chicago Tribune.

FOURTH OF JULY TIPS.

Various Forms of Novelties In This Year's Fireworks.

CHEAP ORACKERS FOR SMALL BOYS

Young Patriots Can Buy Them Seventy for a Cent—A Lozenge Shaped Torpedo Is the Newest Explosive. Variety of Forms in Penny Crackers—Parlor Fireworks.

Orient and occident will share honors on July 4, for then there will explode side by side the seventy-for-one cent baby firecrackers, handmade by untiring Chinamen, and the twenty-five cent machine made American firecracker says the Philadelphia Press.

Both out of the east and out of the west new things in the fireworks line have come for the next Fourth, and advance purchases show that enthusiasm and patriotism will explode more loudly than ever. In fireworks, as in other things, America leads the world, but the Chinaman is the best copier once the model has been set. All the American firecrackers are made by machinery almost as complex and perfect as the machine which swallows tree trunks and turns out boxed tooth picks. And yet, despite the labor saving economy of the machine, American firecrackers of the cheapest kind cost one-third of a cent apiece retail, while Chinese crackers can be sent across the seas, contributing upon their entrance to the United States to the expense of maintaining the national government, and sold for one-seventieth of a cent.

These seventy-for a cent firecrackers are the newest things in their line. They are about a half inch long and an eighth thick, but are all handmade. The cylinder of paper, the string fuse, the plug of clay at one end and the secure tie at the other—all have been arranged by Chinese fingers. The child who pays his penny for seventy of them pays out of that penny the profit of the retailer, the profit of the jobber, the profit of the importing broker, the customs duty, ad valorem and specific; the profit of the steamship company, the profit of the manufacturer, and finally the wages of the employee. The Chinaman who makes the crackers secures about one-eighth of the penny the child paid.

Chinese crackers run from the aforementioned "baby" to the common "mandarin" cracker. This year, for the first time, there is offered a complete bunch of mandarins, sixteen in number, for a cent. All the crackers are united by a fuse, which sets off one immediately after the other, and the continued crackle of the cracker, hitherto only the privileged enjoyment of the man who invested 5 or 10 cents, can now be enjoyed by the child with his penny.

American crackers this year, in Pennsylvania at least, contain only black gunpowder. Previously chloride of potassium and dynamite were used, but these explosives are now prohibited. American crackers are confined within the price of extremes of one third and 25 cents apiece. Their most expensive form is in a string. A leading dealer offers a string of 30,000 large crackers, twenty feet long and requiring twenty minutes to explode, for $40.

The newest explosive is a lozenge shaped torpedo about the size of a peppermint drop, green in color and of uncertain ingredients. If trod on, it simply ignites and puffs; if a flame is applied, it burns sputtering, but when it is laid on metal and exploded by the percussion of other metal it makes a terrific noise. Intended to be laid on street car tracks, the torpedo will explode with the report of a ten pounder, and if there be dust about a blinding cloud will be thrown into the air.

This torpedo is also made in the size of a pea for explosion at the end of an iron tipped cane. It is very cheap. A can and fifty torpedoes neatly packed in a pillow box are offered for 5 cents. It is believed that the torpedo will supplant blank cartridges.

The common penny American cracker is offered in a variety of forms, so that the savage joy of destruction may be had. The cracker, for instance, becomes the chimney of a cardboard "house that Jack built." Its explosion makes fuzz of the house. Again, it is used as the smokestack of a Spanish ironclad or is mounted as a cannon on a cardboard carriage. This year's particular novelty, however, is a paper representation of a dusky damsel making "googoo" eyes. The fuse in the cracker becomes her plait.

Hot air balloons of various styles are very popular this year, Santos-Dumont and other aerial navigators having no doubt unconsciously contributed to their vogue. These goods sell from 5 to 50 cents and more. Set pieces enjoy considerable favor, "Good night" being most in demand. They may be had at prices ranging from $1.50 to $5.00, the latter sum commanding "Niagara Falls" or "George Washington on Horseback" or other complicated designs.

But all fireworks are not strenuous. Fireworks are offered this year for use indoors—parlor fireworks, they are called—and included in the assortment are gontel snakes in the glass, self contained pinwheels and subdued torpedoes.

The Most Satisfactory and Safest Medicine any Sick Woman Can Take.

Thus Does a Prominent Brooklyn, N.Y., Woman, Speak of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

When a woman of the prominence and social standing of Mrs. Atherton whose portrait we are herewith permitted to reproduce, voluntarily furnishes us with a letter of such unqualified endorsement as the following, we feel that we not only owe her a debt of gratitude, but all women who are ill should feel under deep obligations to her, for she tells them in unmistakable words where they may look for a cure and not be disappointed.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt. Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine.

MRS. FLORENCE ATHERTON,

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For the benefit of suffering women I want to testify to the fact that I have by personal experience and by friends who have been cured by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound come to the conclusion that it is the safest, the grandest and the most satisfactory medicine for any sick woman can take. Life was a burden to me five years ago, I felt so miserable with female troubles and irregular menstruation; to-day it is all different, for I am perfectly well. Dozens of my lady friends join me in singing your praise. Yours, FLORENCE ATHERTON, 47 Hoyt St., Brooklyn, N.Y."

"A Boston Woman's Experience."
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. I was a sick woman when I commenced to take it. My trouble was female disease, and I had pain in my back and sides. The doctor said I was going into consumption; I had been married eight years, but had no children. I had some of the best doctors in the city, but none seemed to cure me, so I decided to take your medicine, and it has made me a new woman, and I now have a lovely little baby boy. I would advise all sick and weak women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. ALPHONSE CROKE, 15 Rockingham Place, Roxbury District, Boston, Mass.

Remember every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Her address is Lynn, Mass., her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

A USEFUL ELEPHANT.

Gentry Bros Famous Shows United, which are soon to exhibit in this city, have a troupe of performing elephants which are both useful as well as ornamental. One of the elephants, Pinto by name, plays a hand organ in the Elephant Band, which is one of the ensemble numbers of the animal actors' performance. As the pachyderm is used to turn a crank, his ability in that direction is utilized after the performance by turning the feed cutter which chops up hay for the one hundred or more of his pony associates. At the conclusion of the performance the other elephants go to a corner of the tent to rest, while Pinto walks outside to the cutting box and without any suggestion from any one starts to complete his daily task. The Gentry show will exhibit in this city on Thursday, June 12, two performances only. Tents located on West Church street. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly, tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous. The thing to do is to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Which thoroughly cleanse the blood, expelling all humors and building up the whole system. They cure

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Walter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of Hood's than can be published.

SMART EVENING GOWNS.

Crepeline, Eolienne and Grenadine Are Favorite Materials.

There are many soft and pretty materials which can be smartly trimmed with transparencies and lace motifs to form effective and not too costly evening gowns. Crepeline is one of these; eolienne is another. Both have gained the approval of women with moderate incomes on account of their cheapness, together with their silky texture.

Creamy white lace robes are mounted on colors or on a yellowish bisquit tint, relieved with touches of black. Scarfs of black chiffon, motifs or insertions of black lace and runnings of black velvet are all employed on the white lace gown.

The new embroideries on gauze are especially suitable for evening toilets. These form scrolls inclosed in frames of lace and are embellished with color.

ad jewels, beads or sequins, sparingly employed. Medallions of embroidered lisse or painted gauze on satin is arranged in similar fashion, forming a continuous trimming, which can be detached for sprays, groups and motifs.

The smart evening gown illustrated is made of silk grenadine. The skirt has four ruffles, headed by a fanciful application composed of tucks and lace. The waist has a toothed bolero over a full blouse of tucking. The elbow sleeves have underpuffs. There is a corsage decoration of differently shaded roses. JUDIC CHOLLET.

LACE NOVELTIES.

Embroidered Lace-The New Chiffon Boas.

The latest thing in allover lace shows a design of flowers embroidered in colored silk.

The new chiffon boas are flat instead of round and fall away from the neck. Accordion plaited chiffon is cut in ruffles and finished with baby velvet, narrow ruffling or a fringe of small blossoms or rose petals. The combination of plaited taffeta and fine lace is very smart, especially when completed by long scarf ends of lace to match.

Lace collars are very popular and are to be seen on almost every garment. Irish crochet and tatted laces are the favorites, and big Richelieu collars of Irish lace are worn by those whose figures will allow them. The combination of creamy Irish lace and black and white chiffon is very smart, and a choux of velvet in pale pink or blue makes a dainty finish.

A tasteful dress is shown in the illustration. It is made of allover lace. The blouse waist has a surprise neck, and the opening is brought from right to left. The sleeves are elbow length and fitted. The skirt opens over an underdress of white chiffon edged with many ruffles. The girle is of white-louisine ribbon, with long ends hanging down the front, which are knotted twice. JUDIC CHOLLET.

TOPS KIND AND DOCILE.

Trainer of Circus Elephant Tells Why She Killed Joseph Blount.

Tops, the great five ton elephant of the Forepangh & Sells circus which killed Joseph Blount in the sleeping tent in Brooklyn, posed docilely for a New York Evening Journal photographer the other day. Elephant Trainer William Emery, who has had Tops in his charge for seventeen years, asserts that she would not take human life without extreme and continued annoyance. He told this story of her character and of Blount's death:

Tops has never in my seventeen years' experience with her shown that she is a bad beast, or one that is dangerous. If annoyed past endurance, she is dangerous. A human being annoyed past endurance will strike. Look at that scar on the end of Tops' trunk. The man who came to so sad a death must have touched her with a lighted cigar. A stub was found near his body. That poor fellow Blount came here to get a job as a driver. He was not hired, as he had no references. He held out a whisky glass to the beast and excited her. He burned her with a cigar. She grabbed him around the waist and, without lifting him up or without trumpeting, laid him down and—ugh!—crushed the man with her eight horsepower head. His ribs were broken in that way and not when he was lifted off his feet.

She is as docile as a lamb. No matter how close you may be there is no danger if you let her alone. By this man's death there is a gloom cast over the whole company. We are sorry to hear of his death. It was whisky killed him, not the elephant. William Alf frequently sleeps alongside of Tops and has done so for years.

Elephants must be handled diplomatically. Their natures differ. The males are more capable and receptive than the females because they are stronger. Tops has always been used for pyramidal work and as sort of steam engine for pushing wagons around. Her power is equal to eight horses.

Tops is not to be blamed for her act, as the dead man brought trouble on himself. If she was the dangerous brute some make out, we could not play with her as we are now doing. She will roll for you, kneel for you, shake hands with you, she'll love you and obey you, but I'll be hanged if she'll smoke for any man or permit herself to be touched with the red end of a cigar.

BEST SHOT IN LUZON.

Startling Incident of the War in the Philippines.

Private Cadotte of the Third United States Infantry, on service in the Philippines, sends the following "yarn" to Collier's Weekly. He says the notorious Filipino officer General Llanera told it to him:

"After the terrible fight between Manila and Calococan, while we were yet gathering our scattered forces in order to man the trenches of Polo and Malabon, we gradually got over the 'effect' and came to look upon the American lying at Calococan so quietly as not so dangerous after all. They were afraid to come out and fight, so our men went in small parties and engaged them at times. One day a corporal named Leon went scouting, as he was anxious for promotion. Ill fortune was his, so he caught no Americans unawares, but on the way home he found a great iron ball of oblong shape and brought it into camp at Meycauyan. The captain ordered it taken by the general, who said it was an infernal machine of the Americans—los diablitos!"

"Corporal Leon was ordered to investigate it. He took it outside of the camp under a great mango tree and unscrewed the point of it, for it was a six inch shell. Seeing nothing dangerous about it, he put a lighted cigarette in the hole and then put his ear down over it to hear the result. Well, we did not recover from the 'result' for some time. When we did and looked for Leon and some twenty or thirty other men, we found them, or small pieces of them, hanging in the mango tree and scattered around the ground. From the roll called that night there were forty-six missing, with the wounded."

PLATINUM IN PORTO RICO.

A Discovery by Dr. Day Which May Prove Important.

Dr. David T. Day of the geological survey at Washington has made the interesting and probably important discovery that platinum exists in Porto Rico, says the New York Evening Post. He found it mixed with the placer gold which he got on the island from the negro peons who were panning it. Ignorant miners are so likely not to know platinum and to sort it out and throw it away when it appears in the pan with gold that Dr. Day thinks that the quantities that may be found in Porto Rico may be larger than would appear from this small trace.

At any rate, what there is can probably be got out very easily as a by-product in gold placers which yield from 15 to 25 cents to the pan. That which he has found came from Corozal, in the northwestern part of the island, about forty miles southwest of San Juan, whence it is reached by good wagon road.

REMARKABLE CURES

Are Being Made Daily Free of Charge by the British Physicians Who Are Located at 100 W. Main street—Services for Three Months are Given Free to All Invalids Who Call Upon Them Before June 14th.

A staff of eminent physicians and surgeons from the British Medical Institute have, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their care in this country, decided to establish a permanent branch of the Institute in this city. A location has been secured at Flat 2, Avalon Flats, 100 W. Main street, (west end entrance.)

These eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services, entirely free for three months (medicines excepted) to all invalids who call upon them for treatment between now and June 14. These services consist not only of consultation, examination and advice, but also of all minor surgical operations.

The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and under no conditions will any charge whatever be made for any service rendered for three months to all who call before June 14.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities, and guarantee a cure in every case they undertake. At the first interview a thorough examination is made, and, if incurable, you are frankly and kindly told so; also advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

Male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, also rupture, goitre, cancer, catarract of the eye, cross-eyes, all diseases of the rectum and skin are positively cured by their new treatment. Cases requiring it are diagnosed by X-ray method.

The chief associate surgeon of the Institute, will be in personal charge. Hours 9 to 8. Sundays 10 to 1. Remember the address, Avalon Flats, (west end entrance), West Main street.

The Tyranny of Trivial Things.
The great emotional experiences of life are belittled by the same insistence upon the trivial. Life and love look into each other's eyes, a man and woman elect each other from all the world, but the joyful solemnity of marriage is ruffled by the details of the wedding, perhaps by family squabbles over flowers and gowns and invitations. Or great death comes in at the door, and the little human soul, overwhelmed with grief, appalled by the sudden opening of eternity before its eyes, yet fussed (there is no other word for it) over "mourning" over the width of the hem of the veil or the question of crape buttons or dull set. This may be shocking or mournful or ludicrous, as one happens to look at it, but it is certainly uncivilized. —Harper's Bazar.

Pat's Test.
A good story is told of an Irishman, more patriotic than clever, who enlisted in one of the smart cavalry regiments. The fencing instructor had experienced rather a difficult job in the matter of explaining to him the various ways of using the sword. "Now," he said, "how would you use the sword if your opponent feinted?" "Bedad," said Pat, with gleaming eyes, "I'd just tickle him with the point to see if he was shamming!" —St. James Gazette.

Stationary Engineers.
Miller lodge No. 10, N. A. S. E., is making great preparations for the reception of delegates and visiting engineers to the state convention to be held in Newark June 19-21. Word has just been received that National President Edward G. Jacques of Detroit, Mich., Vice President R. U. Ingleson of Cleveland, O., Past National President Herbert E. Stone of Boston, and National Treasurer Dan Delaney of Cincinnati, will be here. The local association will be put to considerable expense to entertain so many and are resorting to all honorable means to obtain funds for that purpose. They are going to give an entertainment at Taylor Hall, Tuesday evening, June 17 which will be managed by Prof. Geo. Hamilton, who says this will be one of the best shows ever put on the stage in Newark for the admission price of 25 cents. The program will be out in a few days.

Royal Arcanum.
Bayard Taylor Council will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the foundation of the order, on June 23, at Taylor Hall. All members should be present at the meeting of Bayard Taylor council next Monday night when the plan of celebration will be reported by the committee having it in charge. The committee will consider it a favor if any member of the order residing in this city, who is not a member of Bayard Taylor council will report his name and address to Bro. J. M. Penney, secretary of the council, that he may be provided for on the 23d. Members of the council are also requested to report any such members as may come to their knowledge.

Modern Woodmen.
About fifty members of Cedar Camp No. 427, Modern Woodmen of America, of this city, attended the opening of the new quarters of Ohio Camp of Columbus, on Tuesday night. The delegation was led by the Forester team, in charge of Chief Forester E. C. Richardson. The Newark neighbors were met at the Union Station by the team of Ohio Camp and escorted to the Camp Hall. The "boys" were welcomed to the city by Chief of Police Pitt Tyler and Judge Williams, who assured us of their appreciation of their presence and their confidence in the future success of an order whose management was as energetic as that of the Modern Woodmen. The beneficiary degree was exemplified by the Newark team after which they put on a thirty minute fancy drill. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the entire body marched to Neighbor Lohbeck's restaurant, where covers were laid for about 30 guests. Prof. Swiss entertained those present with popular songs and instrumental music. It was the unanimous vote of those present that the Newark team was one of the best, if not the best in the State of Ohio. Their movements were complicated yet without error and Cedar Camp may well feel proud of the success of this team. Prof. Cromer of Zanesville, by special invitation accompanied the Newark team and his music attracted almost as much attention as the fancy drill. Ohio Camp has visited Cedar Camp of this city, and we have always endeavored to be just a little ahead of other camps in the manner of entertainment of their visitors, but the "boys" feel that Columbus has evened up in every way and have discharged all of their obligations to this Camp.

The meeting of Cedar Camp, Modern Woodmen, on Wednesday night, June 4th, was one of the best ever held by this camp. Seven applications were read and accepted and seven candidates were led through the ceremonies of adoption. E. A. Gilbert, one of the candidates, did nicely until the goat sneezed in his face, and Frank Bowker would have fared better had it not been for the fact that at one time he was the proud possessor of a pup. Cedar Camp will hold another of their open meetings at Red Men's Hall on Wednesday night, June 11, at which time a literary and musical program will be rendered at the conclusion of which ice cream, cake and strawberries will be served. Each member is expected to be present and bring a gentleman friend with him. The Woodmen Memorial services, as prescribed by the by laws will be held on Sunday, June 15. All members are expected to meet at the Hall at 9 a. m. and march in a body to Cedar Hill. The graves out of the city will be decorated in the afternoon.

A. O. U. W.
Golden Rod Lodge No. 100 will entertain Hope Lodge No. 44 of Denison, Ohio, and Crescent Lodge No. 13, this city tonight, at a special meeting. The regular work will be conferred upon two candidates in amplified form. After the work a banquet prepared by the ladies of the Degree of Honor will be served. All members of Golden Rod should be present and assist in the entertainment.

Girls to Learn Truck Farming.
An opportunity for women to learn flower and vegetable gardening under most agreeable conditions is to be offered by Mrs. Low of Groton, Mass., who, according to the New York Press, is about to open a school of horticulture on her place, Lowthorpe, in Groton. She is a woman of wealth whose husband, a distant relative of Mayor Low, made his money in the Chinese trade years ago. Her father founded the Bussey institute near Boston, and the Arnold arboretum is on the site of their family homestead. The school will be somewhat upon the same lines as the one in Briarcliff Westchester county, N. Y., but will be on a smaller scale and will have some of Mrs. Low's individual ideas carried into effect.

CONGRESSMAN CROWLEY

Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family For Catarrhal and Nervous Affections.

CONGRESSMAN
J. B. CROWLEY.

Hon. Joseph B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from Robinson, Ill., the following praise for the great catarrhal tonic, Peruna. Congressman Crowley says:

"After giving Peruna a fair trial I can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with coughs, colds and la grippe, and all catarrhal complaints."

"Mrs. Crowley has taken a number of bottles of Peruna on account of nervous troubles. It has proven a strong tonic and lasting cure. I can cheerfully recommend it."—J. B. CROWLEY.

No other remedy invented by man has ever received as much praise from men of high station as Peruna. Over forty members of Congress have tried it and recommended it to suffering humanity. They use it themselves to guard against the effects of the intense strain of public life; to ward off the ill effects of the changeable climate of Washington. They keep it in their homes for family use. They recommend it to their neighbors, and they do not hesitate in public print to declare their appreciation and endorsement of this greatest of modern remedies.

Oil and Gas Co.

The Blyson Oil and Gas Company of Wheeling, W. Va., which owns and operates large fields of the richest oil-producing properties in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky, has, by the judicious use of brains, money and hard work, been steadily paying its shareholders five per cent monthly dividends, and at the same time has been adding to its acreage of proven territory, thereby greatly improving its chances for paying even larger dividends in the near future.

To supply funds to rush the operations in these extensive fields as rapidly as possible, the directors of the company have just decided to continue, for a short time only, the sale of the capital stock at the popular price of thirty cents per share. The par value of the shares is $1.00, full paid and non-assessable forever.

This is an unusual opportunity of making an investment where immediate and substantial returns are absolutely certain.

The dividend of five per cent which was paid on Monday, May 5th, was to every shareholder alike, and the company has just declared another dividend for the present month equally as large, and payable on June 10th. Furthermore, from the extensive development of its various fields now going on, all indications point to still larger profits before many weeks.

It is important to remember that subscriptions received at once entitle purchasers to participate in June dividend and in all subsequent dividends. Not less than fifty shares will be sold to any one.

Notice is also given that after the present allotment has been subscribed no further shares will be offered at less than forty cents per share, and the stock will certainly reach a much higher figure very shortly—even par or beyond.

To secure some of this gilt-edged stock at once, parties should send subscriptions immediately or write for Prospectus No. 3 and bank and other references. Address The Blyson Oil & Gas Company, Rooms 14-149 Peabody Building, Wheeling, W. Va. 5-31-Wed-Sat-4

HEALTHY CHILDREN.
What children need is a pure strengthening tonic, and there is nothing so good for them as BLOOD WINE, which is pleasant to the taste and perfectly safe. Mrs. Sam Farming, 228 Hall Street, Fall River, Mass., writes: "I cannot say enough in praise of your BLOOD WINE. I was very weak and suffered from fearful backache after my last baby was born. I was told that BLOOD WINE was strengthening, and I bought a bottle. It braced me up wonderfully, and I was so pleased with its results that I bought six bottles, and have given it to my four little children. It keeps them healthy, and I consider it the finest medicine I ever had in the house. I enclose you a photograph of my babies, that you may see how healthy they look."

*Miss Mary Ferguson, whose name appears in the list of the graduates, will not be given a diploma, owing to the fact that Doane academy is a school exclusively for boys, and the laws of the institution do not permit of diplomas being given to girls. She, however, has been given a special cer-tificate by the Principal of the academy, which in every way testifies to her high grade and scholarship, and goes out of the academy with high honors.

A Scrap in Art.

"I'm no kicker, and I mind my own business," said the old man with the red face as he sat down in the car. "but there are things that put me out. I was just in a secondhand store when the man had a figure of Ajax defying the lightning, and he was trying to sell it to a woman for Patrick Henry delivering his great speech before con-gress."

"And you mixed in, of course?" queried the one addressed.

"Of course. Could I stand by and see art debauched in that fashion? Yes, sir, I mixed in."

"And the secondhand man?"

"He also mixed in. He claimed to be a full sized figure of Samson tearing down the temple, and he threw me over a bedstead, rolled me over a lounge and flung me up the basement steps. Think of it, sir—a man like that dealing in art in this the twentieth century!"

A company has been formed to mine ice in the ice cave near Flagstaff, Ariz., and thus does one of the pieces of fiction of the late Frank Stockton receive justification.

Violent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by drug-gist G. W. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suf-fered with what good doctors pro-nounced incurable cancer. They be-lieved his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c., Salve 25c. At Hall's drug store.

"FORCE"

A Nourishing Breakfast Food for Brain Workers

Centerburg, Ohio, March 15, 1902.

"FORCE" FOOD CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

Gentlemen.—Every Sunday I preach three times, attend two Sunday schools and one Epworth League. When I come in Sunday evenings, too exhausted to digest an ordinary meal and yet needing something to give strength for the remaining duties of the day, I make my supper largely of "FORCE." It digests without reminding me that I have a stomach, and yet it so strengthens me that I close my last service no more weary than at supper time. It is the food for the weak stomach.

Yours very truly,

Name furnished on application.

PAIN IN THE BACK

A Sure Sign of Kidney Trouble—Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy Will Cure You.

Pain in the back is a never failing sign of kidney disease; another sure sign is the condition of the urine; if you have a pain in the back then I look to the condition of your urine. Take a glass tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood for 24 hours if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, pale or discolored, stringy orropy, your kidneys and bladder are in dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal.

F. C. Wilcox of 559 New Britain avenue, Hartford, Conn., says:

"I had a frightful pain in my back, the result of kidney trouble. My physician seemed powerless to relieve me. I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; it helped me wonderfully, and in a short time cured me completely."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation and corrects the bad effects of whiskey and beer on the system. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and in a remarkably short time makes you well and strong.

All druggists sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the NEW 50 CENT SIZE and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

NEW SECRETARY

IS CHOSEN FOR THE NEWARK Y. M. C. A.

Mr. A. A. Ebersole of St. Louis accepts the Proposition From Newark Association.

Mr. A. A. Ebersole formerly secretary of the Central Branch Y. M. C. A. at St. Louis, Mo., and more recently of Lafayette, Ind., where he has been working up the financial proposition for a new building in that city has accepted the position of General Secretary of the Newark Association, to succeed Mr. J. G. Percy who recently resigned. Mr. Ebersole was in Newark last Saturday, Sunday and Monday looking over the ground in company with the committee, and after the conference the Board made him a proposition which he has been considering this week.

President W. H. Mazy received a letter from Mr. Ebersole Saturday in which he accepts the call, and will be ready to enter on his new duties on July 1. In the meantime he will attend the National Convention of Y. M. C. A. secretaries, which meets at Mountain Lake Park on June 15.

Mr. Ebersole is a young man aged about 32 years and is married, having a wife and two interesting children. He is a graduate of the Chicago university. He made a very pleasing impression on all the members of the Board with whom he came in contact during his recent visit here. He has made arrangements with Mr. Clarence White to occupy the house on North Third street formerly occupied by Mr. Percy and expects to ship his household goods here next week.

RAILROAD NEWS

The B. & O. Strike.

Regarding the strike of the track men along the Newark division of the B. & O. railroad the Zanesville Signal says:

"Train Foreman M. P. Heaney of the Newark division stated to a Signal reporter Friday that about 60 of his men had gone on strike but that he hoped for a settlement of the difficulty within a few days. He stated that May 1 those of his men residing in towns had been raised from $1.25 to $1.35 on account of their heavier living expenses, but that there had been no raise in the case of the men stationed at the smaller places. It seems that this arrangement caused considerable dissatisfaction. A general strike among the section men of this division is thought to be probable. It is understood that the demands of the strikers have been laid before the chief officials of the road."

Local Railway Notes.

TO DRILL AT MARTINSBURG.

Mt. Vernon, June 7.—Three wells known Mt. Vernon gentlemen have leased a strip of land near Martinsburg, and if all plans carry an oil well will be sunk within a short time. The land is located about two miles north of Martinsburg and it is thought by many persons that oil exists in this locality. One Mt. Vernon gentleman has determined to attempt a well and drilling will probably be commenced within a short time.

There is a deficit in the Dutch budget of over $5,000,000.

Columbus was beaten 11 to 3 by Louisville on Friday, by better all-round play. Pfeister was batted hard and received poor support, while the Colonels gave Coons fast support.

COLLEGE ATHLETE KILLED.

Dayton, O., June 7.—Henry Zwick, Jr., 21, son of Henry Zwick of the firm of Zwick & Greenwald, manufacturers, of this city, met a tragic fate during the field day exercises of Case School at Cleveland Friday by being struck in the breast with a sixteen-pound hammer. Young Zwick was a student of more than ordinary ability, having graduated from Case school with high honors last Tuesday. It was the intentions of his parents, who are prostrated over the sad happenings, to send him to Europe next fall to complete his education.

OVATION TO DIXON.

Chester, Pa., June 7.—George Dixon, the former feather-weight champion, received quite an ovation here Friday night when he fought Eddy Lenny before the Chester Athletic club. He was driven around the city in a barouche, headed by a brass band, and the hall was packed with the sporting fraternity. The boys fought six fast rounds to a draw and it was one of the most scientific contests with the gloves ever witnessed in this locality. Dixon was just as clever with his hands, but his blows lacked steam.

Eddie Lenny fought 20-rounds with Oscar Gardner at the Music Hall in Newark, Oct. 4th, 1900, Gardner receiving a very unjust decision.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Chicago Nationals still continue to play fast and winning ball.

Zanesville plays the strong Jamestown, N. Y., team at Zanesville Sunday, and a good game seems assured.

New York played the champion Pittsburg, eleven innings, to a tie Friday.

"Bricktop" Breitenstein, once on Von der Ahe's payroll, is winning games in the Southern league.

There is an automobile club in Great Britain and Ireland, and its present membership is 1,276.

"Baseball is a good game for young men to get into if they get out in time," says Christy Mathewson.

Alfred Dale, the thoroughbred colt who won the Kentucky Derby recently, was prepared for the event by being worked to stilly.

"Starlight," the Australian middleweight, who is nearly fifty years old, recently defeated Jack Conlon, a young star, at Sydney, Australia.

Willie Fenn is in Edward Spooner's cycling camp, as are also Bonnie Monroe, Joe Neyson and Robert Hunters, with a string of pacers. The Spooner outfit will train at Washington.

PRESIDENT RIDES ARMED

Roosevelt Carries Revolver That He Wore at San Juan.

DISLIKES A LARGE BODYGUARD.

That is Why He Has Adopted Vigorous Measures of Protecting Himself During His Horseback Excursions Through Washington's Suburbs.

It has recently been revealed that President Roosevelt in the horseback rides and the long walks to which he is devoted carries constantly in his hip pocket the revolver which he used at San Juan, says the Washington correspondent of the New York World. The weapon is of Colt's manufacture and is a .38 caliber, regulation army style. The cartridges with which it is loaded come from the ordnance bureau.

Sometimes when the president is away out on the borders of the District he practices popping at trees. The revolver is always where he can get it in an instant, and he is so familiar with its use that should the occasion arise it would have to be an expert assailant who could get the "drop" on him. The president wears a loose coat when he goes riding and walking, and there is not even a bulge to disclose the revolver's whereabouts.

The procedure when the president goes for a ride is exactly the same each day. He leaves the White House by the side door. His horse is there, as is also that of his orderly, Sergeant McDonald of the regular army, who is one of the hardest riding cavalrymen in the service and is the best pistol shot in the army. McDonald has two revolvers. He rides a horse like a centaur. It is his business to be just behind the president, whether Elsie, the president's saddle horse, is moving at a wild run or at a slow trot. He is always there. The president has been able to lose detectives and secret service men and bicycle policemen, but he has never yet been able to lose McDonald. When they get on the country roads, they cut loose, and the two bicycle policemen who always follow are left pedaling alone in a cloud of dust.

The president's practice of carrying a revolver is due to his perfect knowledge of the necessity for preparing for any contingency and his dislike for excessive guarding. He could not for physical reasons relinquish his exercise, and it was embarrassing and unsatisfactory to take it in the middle of a crowd of guards. So he decided to be his own guard. He knew what he could do with a revolver. He is not afraid of man or beast. He preferred the .38 caliber Colt and his own quickness on the trigger to any defense that a great crowd of secret service officials could afford him.

In addition to his revolver protection he called in Professor O'Brien of Boston and took a course in Jiu Jitsu, the Japanese method of self defense. He learned how to grasp an assailant's arm and break it before any harm could come to him. He learned how to seize a man by the coat collar and throw him over his head.

In addition to this he boxes and wrestles. He is handicapped by bad eyesight in a sparring match, but is tremendously strong and very quick. He would prove a dangerous customer in a rough and tumble fight until his eyes glasses fell off, and by that time he would undoubtedly have his revolver in action. All this preparation is based on the assumption that some day a crazy man or an anarchist might attack the president.

So far as known no president save Roosevelt since the war has carried a revolver as a regular part of his equipment. President Roosevelt's habit of life makes the practice almost imperative. He has reached that age where only the most vigorous exercise will keep down an accumulation of flesh. If the president should stop exercising and spend his entire time at his desk, he would weigh 225 pounds within six months, for he has a voracious appetite and eats with a keen enjoyment of his food. His whole life is built on the plan of getting each day an hour or two hours of exercise in which every muscle can be brought into play.

He never misses an opportunity. When he is on his special car, he has a system of gymnastics that keeps him in trim. He does not apprehend that he will ever be called upon to use his revolver. He has not the slightest fear of such an event, but he believes in precaution, and he is always ready.

President Roosevelt's habit of going into highways and byways, afoot or on horseback, made it imperative that he should have adequate protection. During his first expeditions after he came to Washington he was literally surrounded with men. While he realized how necessary it was that he should be guarded from any possible attempt on his life, he protested against being the center of a corps of sleuths every time he appeared in public.

"I can take care of myself," he said vigorously.

The government officials did not doubt this, but the bitter lesson of the Buffalo exposition was too fresh in their mind to allow any relaxation. Finally, it resolved itself into a contest between the wills of the president and those of his guards, and, naturally, the president won. He is a rapid and tireless walker. It was his great delight to cut through woods and walk down unfrequented roads and lose his guards.

His friends remonstrated with him. He was told that he owed it to himself and his country to take the utmost care that no harm should come to him. Then it developed that the president never went on one of these expeditions without the Colt's revolver.

DREADED FER-DE-LANCE.

Most Poisonous of Snakes Extirpated by Mont Pelée.

When the rivers of lava rolled down the sides of Mont Pelée in the island of Martinique and the flaming gas and hot ashes fell upon the tropical jungles, the dreaded fer-de-lance, the most poisonous serpent in the world, was practically exterminated, says the New York World. When St. Pierre shall be rebuilt and the lovely parks and byways shall grow green again, there will be no need for the Carib mother or the French portense to scare her children into silence at nightfall with the awful name of the lance of fire. There will be no need to desert the cool shades of the parks at dusk for fear of a deadly stab in the back, driven as swift and straight as a fencer's thrust. When the cooled lava shall take on the inevitable layer of soil and vegetation, you may walk freely abroad, conscious that under your feet lie the calcined remains of the noted pest of Martinique.

Scores of inhabitants died every year from the bites of the fer-de-lance. Compared with this deadly scourge all other snakes were gentlemen of honor. It never attacked openly, as does the rattlesnake or the cobra. It was seldom seen trailing its length along the roadways and lying in the dust, viper fashion. Its methods were those of the thug and the sandbagger. Sent yourself upon a harmless looking cushion of dead leaves if you please, and out from under it, like a lightning flash, would leap the triangular, blunt nosed head and needle fangs of this snake.

If in riding along the roads of Martinique your horse should come to a sudden halt and refuse to proceed even under whip and spur, be sure that a fer-de-lance is near. You may halt and look for it in vain. The roadway is clear. Only one tree stands near it, from which sprouts a dense parasitic plant only a foot in diameter. Yet in that parasite is huddled the fire lance ready to drop upon you, not as a snake would drop upon its prey, but for the purpose of brutal, premeditated murder.

Once struck by the fer-de-lance and your death is only a question of a few moments. Whisky in unlimited quantities may pull you through, but the chances are one in a hundred. There is no known antidote for its bite. Josephine, the spouse of Napoleon and the empress of France, who was born in Martinique, was bitten by a fer-de-lance. Her life was only saved by her faithful negro nurse, who applied her lips to the wound.

COLONY FOR CAPE BOERS.

W. D. Snyman Proposes to Establish One in the West.

As a result of the penalty which the Cape Colony Boers who assisted the Boers of the South African Republic and the Orange Free State may be called upon to pay by the terms of the peace agreement an effort may be made to find homes for some of them in the United States. W. D. Snyman of Cape Colony, who fought with the Boers, having the rank of a commandant, so intimated the other night to a reporter of the New York Tribune.

Mr. Snyman came to this country a year or more ago with his son and two other Boer officers and since that time has been traveling through the United States speaking for the Boer cause. His property in Cape Colony having been destroyed and he being liable to imprisonment for a term of from five to ten years for the part he took in the war, he said that he would try to bring his family to this country.

"All the news I have before me," he continued, "is the report of Mr. Balfour's statement. If that is correct, it is evident that Great Britain has given the Boers in the Transvaal nearly all they wanted. The colonial Boers are to be punished. I am a colonial Boer, born a British subject, I am sorry to say, and am liable to imprisonment for from five to ten years if the terms as published are correct. I am acquainted with President Roosevelt, and I shall see if there is not a way for some of our people to come to this country. I think there is a great opportunity for us here. There are a few of us here now, but in Portugal there are a good many colonials, and they will probably not want to return to South Africa now. They are men well born. If the United States government would open the way, they would be glad to settle in some state like New Mexico, Arizona, Texas or Colorado. They would make good citizens. No one would need to be ashamed of them. I shall use every effort to open the way to bring them here."

Mr. Snyman's son, who fought with him in South Africa, has just passed his examinations for admission to Columbia university.

The Cuban Hymn.

[The Cuban hymn is sung in every hamlet in Cuba. It is called "Himno de Bayamo." The name is derived from the small town in Santiago province where the Cuban flag was first raised. It was written by a native. English version by Frederic J. Haack.]

To the contest, oh, sons of Bayamo! From your country her blessing receive; A patriot's death fear ye never; Higher honor none could not achieve. Life in chains is galling to freedom. The portion of craves and slaves; The voice of the angel of freedom Is calling to those who are brave.

Fear ye not the wrath of Iberia! Make all tyrants, who's coward at heart; Cuba a valor will surely overwhelm her; Lo, her empire and prestige depart! The might of her ages is waning; Crumble her pride and her power! Hark to the call of freedom: To arms, all ye hosts; 'tis the hour!"

Be the night ever blessed remembered When at Yara, with tocsin of glee, The Cuban there vowed to be free. Let the star not be dimmed in its glory. Worked in gold by the fair of the land; Engraved in forever and ever Loyal Cubans together will stand.
